TravelManagers recognized for its volume & growth by major airline

Emirates acknowledged the growth and productivity of TravelManagers personal travel manager network at a prestigious awards dinner at Sydney's Four Seasons Hotel last Wednesday 23rd July. This acknowledgement was in the form of an Award for Outstanding Achievement for 2007 – 2008 which was revenue based but took into account growth and productivity per individual personal travel manager.

In commenting on the presentation of this award, Tim Harrowell, Emirates' Sales Manager NSW/ACT, described TravelManagers' growth as "phenomenal". In responding to Tim's comment Mandy Scotney, House of Travel's

Executive General Manager Retail, said "This award belongs to every single personal travel manager as each of them have contributed in some way to our success. We are naturally very pleased with this recognition as our TravelManagers business is going from strength to strength with a powerful mix of corporate and leisure travel. The enormous growth in Emirates' first and business class travel demonstrates this mix and is recognition of how well we are meeting the needs of TravelManagers' corporate and high-end leisure customers."

Ms Scotney went on to say "TravelManagers' continues to recruit former travel agency owners, agency managers and professional travel consultants and is the ideal choice for experienced corporate or high-end leisure consultant seeking to secure the benefits of more flexible hours and working from home together with the prospect of increasing their earning potential. These benefits are much greater than might be initially perceived as they can extend to the elimination of lengthy commutes at the beginning and end of each day plus a healthy reduction in the impact of the recent increases in petrol prices"
