TRAVELMANAGERS

personally yours

TravelManagers continues to provide amazing training and development opportunities for its personal travel managers, landing another exclusive famil this time with Great Southern Rail.

Selected personal travel managers will get to experience The Ghan from Darwin to Adelaide escorted by Great Southern Rail's business development manager Shirley Tam and Pru Gallagher from TravelManagers' national partnership office.

The personal travel managers selected are:

James Hermiston - Camp Hill, QLD
Brad Thomas - Wahroonga, NSW
Jeremy Ferguson - Brunswick, VIC
Matt Halloran - Moorebank, NSW
Beverly Burt - Ashbury, NSW
Nicole Edgar - Narre Warren South, VIC
Lisa Metzl - North Avoca, NSW

Ms Gallagher says as with past famils exclusive to TravelManagers the personal travel managers have had to qualify for this opportunity.

"Participants have had to complete an online training program, take a test achieving a minimum of 30 out of 33, become an accredited Great Southern Rail specialist and then go into a draw for one of seven exclusive spots on the famil."

She says the feedback has been incredible.

"The team are very excited about the trip and what it involves. Rail travel is a fast growing product line, it has become incredible trendy and we are picking it will be a very strong seller for us in 2010."

The famil itinerary begins in Darwin where the team will stay at the Mantra Pandanas hosted by Mantra Hotels. The following morning they climb onboard the Ghan and into a Gold Service cabin for the duration of the journey travelling through to Adelaide with stops at Katherine and Alice Springs eventually arriving in Adelaide two days later.

"This is now TravelManagers fifth exclusive personal travel manager famil trip and the first for 2010. We have another four exclusive famils currently in the pipeline plus we have 23 personal travel managers on educational opportunities in the first quarter of this year with a number of our partner suppliers."

Shirley Tam of Great Southern Rail says she has been impressed by the way in which TravelManagers operate their education and famil programme.

"It is refreshing to work with an organisation that places such a high value on educationals and we like the way they link it with achieving excellence. We have seen a significant rise in sales from TravelManagers and certainly agree with them that 2010 will be even better."
